MANY THRILLS IN PICTURE AT GRAND

Cleo Ridgley is Seen in Jesse L. Lasky Production of "The Love Mask."

Standing on the slippery top of a stage coach, driving four horses with one hand at full speed down a mountain road, being buried under a landslide and going through them all uninjured only to be, immediately, bucked off a horse and having both wrists sprained, were a few of the accidents that befell beautiful Cleo Ridgley, Lasky Star, who will be seen at the Robinson Grand today in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "The Love Mask." Miss Ridgley, who is an expert horsewoman, passed through here other mishaps so safely that she failed to give sufficient consideration to a piece of paper which flew under her horse's feet in returning to the studio. One quick jump and small heels followed, a blond tressed head over the horse's neck into a patch of weeds. For two

A CANDIDATE OF THE PEOPLE AND FOR THE PEOPLE

Is W. N. Edgell. Candidate for Nomination for House of Delegates.

W. N. Edgell, who is before the people for nomination for the House of Delegates, is not a partisan, is broad-minded and liberal in his views. Well qualified morally, mentally and by experience in public life for nearly fifty years, to represent the whole people of the county and state in its legislature, and to conserve and protect the varied interests of all the people, and, before the voters as a candidate not of any particular sect or order, cause, economic man or set of men, free to use his best judgment as to what is right and best for all our people, and has the courage of his convictions. He is a native of the state, born in Wetzell county, and a resident and taxpayer in Harrison county for forty-two years. He had an honorable service of two years and eight months in the Union army in the Civil war, most of this time in the front. He taught six terms of free school from 1867 to 1875; he has been an acceptable minister in the Methodist Episcopal church since May, 1875; was a notary public for many years; a successful pension attorney for thirty years; was a successful farmer, a miller, a merchant at Brown for years and postmaster at that town for four years. From a poor boy by industry and economy, he made a good living for his family and acquired considerable property. He is a temperance man in principle and practice, and in favor of the temperance laws of our state, and of other laws that might and should be enacted, and if elected will devote it his duty to serve the people economically to the best of his skill and judgment, and to their best interests morally, physically, mentally and materially. He is a poor man and will have special regard for the poor. He never held an elective office.

her past life. After many sacrifices, however, he proves his sincerity, and together they find peace in the knowledge of their true love.

Another chapter of "The Mystery of Myra" will also be on the splendid program as an added attraction. Tomorrow William Collier and Edith Markey appear in "The No Good Guy," a Triangle masterpiece and an all star cast. Mack Bennett is starred in the two-act Keystone comedy, "A Dash of Courage."

"Are You a Mason?" a bright, sparkling musical comedy, is the title of the bill to be presented by the Southern Beauty Musical Comedy Company for Monday and Tuesday at the Palace Theatre. The company, one of the largest that has played the Palace, is made up of eleven talented artists who present plenty of musical and wholesome comedy. Two special features of the show are the Castle Square quartet and the big beauty singing and dancing chorus. The company will present the usual Wednesday and Friday change of program.

For the present week the Odeon has booked one of the best tabloid companies on the road, Allen and Kenna's aviation girls. This is a splendid singing and dancing show, and a special feature will be Miss Elanore Browne, the famous toe dancer. The comedy part of the show is exceptionally good. Mr. Ludlow Allen being one of the best Irish comedians in the business. This show is noted for its chorus girls who are real singers and dancers. There will be three changes of program during the week. Monday, Wednesday and Friday with a matinee daily and two matinees Saturday afternoon.

It must be good—the new slogan coined for the new service at the Bijou has had a week's trial and the management desires to express its thanks to the Clarksburg picture patrons for the generous response to the change made. One week's demonstration has a gain of nearly fifty per cent in patronage.

"The Immortal Flame," which is showing today, presents the beautiful emotional actress, Maude Fealy and Paula Shay. This five act love drama comes direct from New York with the stamp of approval placed there by New York's critical critics. One reel of excellent comedy will close the bill.

Tuesday's feature is "Lying Lips," with Winifred Greenwood taking the leading part. Miss Greenwood takes the part of a Broadway theatrical star, which gives ample opportunity for her to display her emotional talents to the best advantage. Franklyn Ritchie takes the role of an artist and carries the part in a manner which will appeal. The story is of an actress who marries into a wealthy family; then takes a sudden notion to take to the stage again. It is a strictly high class society play. The comedy end of the bill is well cared for by Billie Van Deusen with a cartoon, closing with a beautiful "Seeing America First," showing scenes in the beautiful Yosemite valley of California.

Harold Lockwood and May Allison are with the Metro company producing "The Night Rider," in the hills of North Carolina, where they are using an old moonshiner's rendezvous and that he has invented a new drink known as "the moonshiner cocktail." Harold Lockwood and May Allison are starred in "The Night Rider."

SCHOOL BOND ISSUE IS STRONGLY URGED

Several Splendid Reasons Are Given Why It Should Carry in Coal District.

(A Citizen.)

As a citizen, and as one interested in the question of better schools, I feel it my duty to call attention to the need of and wisdom in providing measures for erecting and maintaining up-to-date and sanitary schools.

The school board of Coal district has advanced several good reasons why the bonds are necessary and why the issuing of bonds is a better proposition, than voting a special levy each year.

Space will not permit me to discuss in detail the various reasons and conditions that are being advanced in favor of the bond question. So, I will call attention to a number of good reasons the school board has given. They are as follows:

First—The building fund levy of fifteen cents on the $100 tax fixed by the state legislature will produce only $12,250. This sum is hardly sufficient to meet the current expenses of the schools and leaves no funds available for building any new school buildings or to make repairs on those already in use.

Second—An inspection of the records in the county clerk's office shows that between sixty-five and seventy per cent of all the taxes in the district are paid by non-resident corporations; such as the railroads, traction lines, gas companies, and manufacturing concerns. Here are some figures to prove it:

Corporations	Value of property.
Baltimore and Ohio railroad	733,000
Monongahela River railroad	634,000
Short Line Railroad, Baltimore and Ohio	227,000
Monongahela Valley Traction Company	484,000
Clarksburg Light and Heat	467,000
Hoppe Natural Gas Company	350,000
Monongahela Development Company	318,000
Philadelphia Gas Company	110,000
Phillips Sheet and Tin Plate Company	50,000
Grassell Chemical Company	150,000
Consolidation Coal Company	250,000
All other corporate companies	1,150,000
Total	$5,158,000
Total assessed value of property	$8,165,268
Less corporation tax	$5,158,000
Value of farm lands, homes, and personal property	$3,007,268

Third—In regard to the levy necessary to pay the interest on and provide a sinking fund to take up the

If you were to ask your wife what kind of silverware she used, she would doubtless answer—1847, the kind her mother used, one with an unblemished reputation. Why not use the same good judgment in buying an automobile, and buy the car with an unblemished reputation built by the inventor of America's First Car? Reputation counts much, or it would be useless for man to spend the best of his life acquiring a favorable one.

They increase the value of your property, bring into your community a better class of people and show that you are interested in protecting the health of the children and are willing to provide them with proper facilities for acquiring an education.

SOCIALIST PARTY NAMES A TICKET

As the Basis of a Mandamus Proceeding to Test Validity of the Primary Law.

The activities of the Socialist party in this city yesterday, which were a mass meeting for the county and a meeting of the state executive committee, resulted in the nomination of a full county ticket by the former and making the following public statement by the latter:

"Whereas, It has been circulated by the public press that the Socialist party has proposed fusion, compromise or indorsement of candidates of other political parties;

"Now, therefore, the state executive committee makes the following declaration: That we emphatically reaffirm the party's adherence to the principles of international socialism, which is against any compromise whatsoever in favor of any capitalist candidate; and, further,

"It is the unshaken purpose of the Socialist party to vigorously contest the objectionable features of the West Virginia primary election law,
